

We acknowledge that the lands on which we gather, plant, harvest, and share knowledge and resources are the homelands of the Innu and Inuit of Labrador, and we recognize their ancestral and continued ties to these lands and waters.

COMMUNITY FARM-BASED RESEARCH AT THE PYE CENTRE

All research that takes place at and with the Pye Centre is considered community farm-based research. We consider community farm-based research to be any research activity on, or linked to, the farm that is place-based and community-focused, meaning it is designed with and for the benefit of peoples, lands, and waters of Labrador.

Before submitting your community farm-based research proposal, please review:

1. Principles and Practices of Community Farm-Based Research at and with the Pye Centre
2. Available Services, Equipment, and Other Resources to Support Community Farm-Based Research
3. Summary of Fees
4. Memorial University's Policy and Procedures on Research Impacting Indigenous Groups
5. Tri-Agency Framework: Responsible Conduct of Research

Submission deadlines:

Please submit your proposal to pyecentre@mun.ca before 11:59pm (Atlantic) on January 31 to be considered for approval. If January 31st falls on a weekend, the proposal must be submitted the next business day, by 11:59pm (Atlantic). Proposals may be considered after this deadline, with special permission from the Pye Centre. Submitted proposals are reviewed by the Pye Centre's management team and Community Farm Advisory Board. Approvals will be sent out by the end of February.
